Fighting tuberculosis through community-based counsellors: a randomised evaluation of performance-based incentives in India

Thomas Bossuroy, World Bank, Clara Delavallade, Yale University and Northwestern University, Vincent Pons, Harvard Business School

Note to readers

3ie accepted this impact evaluation in partial fulfilment of the requirements of grant OW3.1218 issued under Open Window 3. Since publication, the authors have determined that apparent forgery in the programme and administrative data casts doubts on the validity of the measurement of certain critical outcomes in the research in this study. Consequently, 3ie is unpublishing this report and removing the associated datasets from Dataverse. This paper will not be revised or otherwise published in any updated form by 3ie.
