

3ie EGM Platform sharing Frequently asked questions

1. Who can use the platform?

The two main requirements are that users are non-profit organisations and agree to abide by the Creative Commons licence. 3ie envisions potential users who want to search for and understand what evidence exists (as they have defined it) and where there are gaps. Applications will be reviewed based on how the proposed use fits within the broader commitments of reducing poverty and promoting equitable, inclusive and sustainable development.

2. Can I display my map directly on my own website?

Once you complete your map and publish it, you will have a HTML embed code plug-in, which can be used to display the map on your website. The map url can also be used for linking. All maps will have direct social media sharing plug-ins. The map remains on the 3ie server.

3. How much does it cost?

Map hosting is free for the first 10 maps and chargeable thereafter. We will host maps of 3ie members for free, regardless of the number. Should a member end their affiliation with us, then we may introduce hosting charges.

4. Can my map ever be published on the 3ie website?

If you had a contract with 3ie to produce your map, it may qualify to be posted on our website.

5. What are reasons for 3ie ending my access to my map?

3ie reserves the right to remove user access to the platform immediately at any sign of misuse or breach of the licence or this agreement. Otherwise, any termination will be given with a 30-day notice.

6. Does my map get upgraded with any platform upgrades?

Yes. We will inform you of any changes or upgrades to the 3ie map platform before we institute them. 3ie will always take backups prior to an upgrade, in case there are any glitches.
