

2019 KDI School-3ie-ADB Conference on Impact Evaluation in Development Research

Date: August 6th ~ 7th, 2019 Venue: Orchid Hall (4F), The Plaza Hotel, Seoul, Korea

KDI School is holding a periodical conference, the 2nd KDI School-3ie-ADB Conference on Impact Evaluation in Development Research, in association with 3ie (International Initiative for Impact Evaluation) and ADB (Asian Development Bank).

The conference will be held inside the Plaza Hotel in Seoul, The Republic of Korea, from August 6–7, 2019.

KDI School expects the conference to provide a forum for globally renowned scholars in the area of impact evaluation and development economics to gather to not only share their ideas but also establish global alliances in the field.

The conference will consist of six sessions—each dedicated to a different topic—with two to three presentations given during each session.

Speakers from nine different universities, the Government Communication Service of the United Kingdom, Asian Development Bank, and 3ie will present exciting perspectives and trends in the field of impact evaluation.

In addition to the regular sessions, a poster session will be organized by graduate students interested in the field of development research, representing several major universities in Korea.
